

ICE Educational & Media Partnerships Benefit Package

ICE has been dedicated to integrating technology in schools since 1986. ICE is the Illinois affiliate of ISTE. Our members, who are the technology staff, administrators, librarians, teachers, coaches, and other tech-savvy educators transforming our schools every day, set the standard for innovating teaching and learning with digital tools. ICE takes pride in its relationships with organizations who share in its mission to support the use of technology in the curriculum. We would like to partner with educational associations in an effort to increase member outreach and to showcase the partnership of technology, administration, and curriculum. These partnerships deliver additional benefits to each of the partner's members through professional development offerings and other resources.

We hope you consider becoming an ICE Educational and/or Media Partner!

ICE Educational Partners

ICE takes pride in its relationships with organizations who share in its mission to support the use of technology in the curriculum. We would like to partner with educational associations in an effort to increase member outreach and to showcase the partnership of technology, administration, and curriculum. The partnerships deliver additional benefits to each of the partner's members through professional development offerings and other resources. In order to foster these relationships, ICE Education Partners receive the benefits listed below and ask that you provide reciprocal benefits.

ICE will provide:

An exhibit space at the ICE annual convention (February, Schaumburg) in a dedicated position with other association partners to showcase the partnership. This includes access to the over 4,000 attendees and 200 exhibiting companies expected to attend.

Recognition in the final conference program showcasing the partnership and encouraging members to join partnering associations

Inclusion of your annual conference on the ICE website through the calendar listing

Your logo, organization description and weblink posted on the Education Partners page of the ICE website

In exchange, ICE would like:

One complimentary booth at your annual event;

Recognition in Conference Program at your annual event.

ICE Organization description and Web link posted on the your organization's website; and

Announcement(s) regarding our annual conference to your membership list

We appreciate your support and look forward to working with you! Please fill out the ICE Partnership Form at:
